Comments: I strongly disagree with the going ahead of the fingerboard mine. I have lived in the town all my life. It is a natural wonder. Beautiful bushland, full of flora and fauna not found anywhere else, crystal clean rivers and creeks, with an abundance of aquatic life and a bounty of lake system to explore, also full of flora, fauna and aquatic life. This end of the world is a healthy natural beauty.   On top of the above, we have a huge fertile food bowl right at our finger tips. That supplies people and markets for miles. And keeps a huge amount of people in good honest work. If this horrible mine is to go ahead. ALL of the above will be removed from this area. Our immediate bushland desimated by the building of roads and factory, machinery and fences. Then the constant dust and fumes will leak out across the rest of the area. Poisoning the local wildlife. Our rivers will become polluted and infertile. Washing down to our lake system. Taking all natural life with it. And once the greedy business men have raped the land of everything they can profit from, torn our roads to pieces, killed our lake systems and decimated our flora and fauna. They will push the land flat and move on. Taking with them all the 'jobs' they promised. Leaving homes empty and shops to close. Its been seen time and time again. This mine is not needed in our part of the world. We are a holiday destination, a place where families have been returning year after year, generation after generation. This will kill us.   Its been written about, its had movies made about it. But still, the greed wins. We need someone to stand up for what is right. "When the last tree is cut, the last fish is taken, and the last river polluted, you will see, to late, that you cant eat money" Vladimir De Thèzier
