Comments: I am writing to state that I do not support this project going ahead as the destructive environmental and cultural impacts of this project far outweigh the potential benefits. I hope that the vic government can take some progressive action to protect this sacred land and hold the same value for significant indigenous cultural sites and their protections as they do for historical colonial sites. The true value of this Country lays in the rich and invaluable history and current presence of the indigenous people of these lands, their culture, their legacy. We need to see governments protecting and preserving these sacred lands and culture. Mining does not serve us long term, once the land has been stripped of her resources and polluted leaving nothing but a barren waste land, where do we go from there? We need government leaders who truly hold the best interests of this country at heart. Stop putting short term profit before irreplaceable cultural sites, history and the preservation of our natural environment and it's incredible beauty.
