Comments: Minister for planning Victoria. History tells us that mining is extremely detrimental to our environment. There comes a time when we have to say no more. No more destruction. No more decisions that will adversely impact future generations. The mine proposed affects farms and businesses but most of all the land and water. Water! The mine will use billions of it! Precious water. In East Gippsland the threat of devastating bushfires is only going to increase. Please put a stop to destruction, 20 years is a long time for a mine to literally take from the earth. Also, please watch A Life on Our Planet, David Attenborough. It's very depressing because it's true. We have choices to make for the future. Make the right one for all of us.
